CD's Corner

Fall is just a few weeks away. Have you registered for the Georgia District "Come Ride with Us" weekend? I noticed the other day that some trees are already turning colors. Maybe the Georgia Hills will be colorful in time for that event! Either way, it will be a great time to ride and socialize with other GWRRA members.

Personally, I am looking forward to cooler weather and weekend rides. Do you have any place special you would like to ride? How about organizing a ride to someplace fun or a great place for lunch; all it takes is letting us know and folks will show up.

Happy September! Ride Safely!

Goofy's Adventures

Ole, Goof here, yuk, yuk!

Not much activity on the motorcycle here at the Piper residence. Once again, they just let me sit on the bike waiting and waiting and waiting...

Anyhow, lots of things happening inside the house, people making noise hammering and such. Janel says it ain't safe in the house. Besides, that crazy Archi likes to shake me to pieces. So I sit in the garage, waiting and waiting and waiting.

So, who will take me home this month? I am needin' my air time on the back of a Gold Wing...will it be yours? Pplleeeasse, someone rescue me!

GOOFP

In honor of International Bacon Day (9/4/21) Some Savory Facts about Bacon<sup>1</sup>

- Bacon dates back to 1500 BC. The Chinese were the first to cook salted pork bellies more than 3000 years ago. This makes bacon one of the world's oldest processed meats.
- The word "bacon" refers to the back of a pig. The word bacon comes from the Germanic root "-bak," and refers to the back of the pig that supplied the meat. Bakko became the French bacco, which the English then adopted around the 12th century, naming the dish bacoun. Back then, the term referred to any pork product, but by the 14th century bacoun referred specifically to the cured meat.
- The phrase "brining home the bacon" dates back centuries. These days the phrase refers to making money, but its origins have nothing to do with income. In 12th century England, churches would award a fitch, or a side, of bacon to any married man who swore before God that he and his wife had not argued for a year and a day. Men who "brought home the bacon" were seen as exemplary citizens and husbands.
- The average American consumes 18 pounds of bacon each year.
- There is (was?) a bacon sculpture of Kevin Bacon by artist Mike Lahue that used 7 bottles of bacon bits, glue and lacquer to create a bust of the Footloose star.
